Description

This circular route starts at the Enger bus stop and leads on a slightly steeper tarmac road in the direction of the waterfall for a short stretch (ca. 250 m) only. Then a forest road with several serpentine takes you directly beneath the viewing platform. The platform can then be reached by climbing a simple steep path for about 50 m. Continue the tour along the forest path to Eggenstall. In Eggenstall you cross the street and turn right to the village Innerwald. From Innerwald you hike back to Enger to the starting point at the bus stop.
